Social Skills

Friendly, strong-willed and outspoken, the most important thing for me is to demonstrate competence and making important things happen. I am a decisive, organized and efficient person with a global perspective, and demanding of myself as well as of the others.

Due to my short but intense experience in the Web area, I have worked and several sizes leader companies, with diverse and high expectations, showing in all of them a huge adaptability and learning will. I have also experience in a multicultural environments like the European Patent Office, GSI Commerce and Privalia.
